

FACTSWHAT DOES LATHROP INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT ("LIMC") DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Why?	Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.
What?	The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Social Security number and employment information ■ Contact information and investment holdings and activity ■ Tax issues and other personal, investment and financial issues When you are no longer our customer, we continue to share your information as described in this notice.
How?	All financial companies need to share clients' personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their clients' personal information; the reasons LIMC chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Reasons we can share your personal information	Does LIMC share?	Can you limit this sharing?
For our everyday business purposes— such as to process your transactions, maintain your account(s), respond to court orders and legal investigations, or report to credit bureaus	YES	NO
For our marketing purposes— to offer our products and services to you	NO	N/A
For joint marketing with other financial companies	NO	N/A
For our affiliates' everyday business purposes— information about your transactions and experiences	NO	N/A
For our affiliates' everyday business purposes— information about your creditworthiness	NO	N/A
For nonaffiliates to market to you	NO	N/A

Questions?	Call 501.227.4930 or go to www.limc.com
-------------------	---

Who we are

Who is providing this notice?

LATHROP INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT ("LIMC")

What we do

How does LIMC protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

How does LIMC collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you

- Retain LIMC's services or open an investment account
- or
- Discuss your investment situation and objectives with LIMC

In addition and only with client consent, LIMC may share information with other agents, advisers or counsel serving its clients.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only

- sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.

Definitions

Affiliates

Companies related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.

- None

Nonaffiliates

Companies not related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.

- Your investment account custodian, or your attorney, accountant, business manager, or other agents or advisers serving you

Joint marketing

A formal agreement between nonaffiliated financial companies that together market financial products or services to you.

- LIMC does not participate in any marketing activities specifically directed at its clients.

Other important information